LETS CREATE A WORLD

"There is no greater agony than bearing an untold story inside you."

Maya Angelou

What is the backstory of this world..? Go as far back as reasonable to set the stage. This is the foundation of your story take your time. Have fun here! Are we in space? Are we in the ocean? Are there multiple races or creatures? Is there magic common? How common is it?

What is the catalyst that will get your characters on a common goal? i.e. An evil doer is captured a princess, space clowns are invading, they all suddenly are late to a party, etc.

Use this space to create Plot Points. As your team adventures you will need to log the big plot points of their adventure to keep track!
